Showcase of Schools/Open Enrollment Fair highlights 2010-11 student choices in Sac City Unified Service and college representatives join in one-stop shopping opportunity for students, families

Sacramento City Unified School district is offering a “one stop shopping” opportunity for parents and students considering school options for next fall at its “Showcase of Schools/Open Enrollment Fair” on Saturday, Nov. 7 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Serna Center, 5735 47th Ave.

The fair is the place to go for information about SCUSD schools and programs and meeting principals, students and teachers from all schools in the district. Translators will be available. Families will also be able to learn more about the February 2010 open enrollment application process which will allow students to apply to schools not in their neighborhood attendance area. Representatives from local colleges and technical institutes will be available with information about their programs and to answer questions about how to apply at their colleges or institutes. District staff from offices such as Special Education, Child Development, and Health Services will also be on hand.

Guest exhibitors include California State University, Sacramento; University of California, Berkeley; University of California, Davis; University of the Pacific, Sacramento City College, Consumnes River College, San Joaquin Valley College, Western Career College, ITT Technical Institute, DeVry University, Heald College, California Community Colleges SB70 Environmental Career Preparation Program, after school providers 4th R and Sacramento START; PTA, Sacramento Regional Science & Engineering Fair and Regional Transit.

The free event is open to families residing in or out of the district. Families living outside district boundaries can attend SCUSD campuses by applying for an inter-district permit (and based on space availability).

“This is a great opportunity to highlight all our schools in one place and the many options our district offers to families,” said Superintendent Jonathan P. Raymond. “Many of our university and college partners will also be present and can help students and parents with information about the college application process,” Raymond added.

Visitors to the fair will be able to browse school and district web sites and pick up brochures and other information about schools and programs.

More information about the fair and open enrollment can be learned from the district’s web site at www.scusd.edu or by calling the SCUSD Open Enrollment Office at (916) 643-2348.
